

relative contribution of species i to the strenght of function α

